

Friday and Saturday Remnant Days

While in the market on our recent buying trip we picked up some good merchandise in remnants, mill end lengths, etc., at way under value.

We will feature Friday and Saturday of each week as Remnant Days, and in this sale will be our own remnants, broken sizes, discontinued numbers, etc., from our week's end selling.

We are going to try and make these Remnant Days interesting to our patrons and hope to have the pleasure of seeing you at this our first one.

We will place on sale (Friday and Saturday only) 25 pieces more of the well known 10c Hirschman finished soft for the ready; the same brand we sold two weeks ago, Saturday at 11c-12c 25 dozen towels, 10c and 12c-13c values for, each $1.95

Hollis Crews, northwest of Earl, sold a pair of coming four and five-year-old mules last week to J. Ed Moore, of Guthrie, for $550. This pair of hybrids was shown at the Callaway and Audrain county fairs last season, and ranked either first or second in all entries. Wallace Coons, of Earl vicinity, also sold a pair of show mules the same day to Mr. Moore, getting $575 for them. Both of the brutes are coming five-year-old mares and weigh close to 2,800 pounds. They had been shown at the same fairs as were those of Mr. Crews, both teams ranking close in the awards. Both pairs were delivered at McCredie Saturday, when Mr. Moore shipped a car load of mules.—Fulton Gazette.

Logan and Thomas Watts, south Audrain farmers and stockmen, will operate more than 1,000 acres of fine land this season. Besides their own place, they will operate the Robert T. Freeman farm of 450 acres belonging to Max E. Witt, of Clarinda, Ia. They will put out 330 acres of corn and 120 acres of oats.

Albert Price is home from a trip through Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas where he bought horses for Sparks Bros., of St. Louis.

D. Schilling, of Chicago and Hans Berg, of Milwaukee were in Mexico, Thursday looking at saddle horses.

Martinsburg will hold its semi-annual stock sales Saturday, March 13.

Leonard Mundy, of the firm of Horace Mundy and Son, bought a thoroughbred Poland China brood sow at H. L. Pritchett's sale this week for $67.50. Mr. Mundy and his son have one of the finest bunches of Poland China sows in this county.

L. C. Craghead, east of Stephens, has rented and will move to the Joseph Bittin 160 acre farm, near Mexico.

Sam Morris has bought a horse and buggy from J. Robbins for $140. Mr. Robbins, who was employed by W. W. Pollock in this city has moved to Moberly to reside.

The Monthly Stock Sales Day in Mexico came in for a great deal of praise at the Commercial Club luncheon, Friday. B. R. Middleton, of whose barn many sales were made, said he believed at least $30,000 worth of live stock was sold here on that day. Letters from W. W. Mundy, a leading stock buyer of this county and Miss Byrd Crum were read. Both of them are much pleased with the new institution and say they think it will be a great thing for Mexico. Forest Weaver, of Molino made a short talk favoring the proposition as did W. W. Pollock and W. L. Fowles.

Secretary R. E. Kase read a letter from Representative E. A. Shannon in which Mr. Shannon said he was opposed to any adverse railroad legislation. This letter was written in answer to a petition sent by the club against adverse legislation.

Fred A. Morris made the report of the Manufacturing Committee in regard to the proposition of G. L. Ferris for a loan of $1,000 to start a factory for washing machines.

J. W. Fishback, of around Paris, sold 104 head of 850 pound steers to Bob Peck and other buyers in this city, Monday, at $7.15.

Will Lee, of Mexico, and Hans Berg, of Milwaukee, Wis., were in Fulton Friday morning, and while there Mr. Berg bought a splendid six-year-old black driving mare from Dr. M. O. Biggs, superintendent of the State Hospital, paying a fancy price for the animal. She was shipped to Mexico the same day and from here will be forwarded to Milwaukee. Mr. Berg is one of the prominent horsemen of his city and owns a fine stable of horses.

Horace Ritter living south of this city sold five mules for $1,000 to a Kentucky mule buyer this week. This is the highest price paid for mules this season in Audrain county.

Jeff Woods, of near Axtell was in Mexico, Saturday, Mr. Woods is buying a large number of cavalry horses for the British army these days.

John P. Arnold, of Williamsburg, last week paid $1,000 for Rex Direct 5091, a three-year-old stallion he bought from Hamilton Bros., of Blue Grass Stock Farm. This stallion was sired by Rex Peavine and he by Rex McDonald, and is out of Minnie Thornton, a full sister of Thornton's Star. Rex Direct will be fitted and shown this season.

John Yates, one mile east of Auxvasse, went to the St. Louis market from Auxvasse Monday with two cars of steers, 42 head. They had been fed about sixty-five days on corn, ensilage and cotton cake and averaged 1,100 pounds at market. The selling price was $7.25.

J. F. Buckner & Son, of Auxvasse, last week bought 750 bushels of shelled corn from W. B. Harris, of Fulton, at 68 cents per bushel, in the field or pasture and fed one load in a place which keeps the manure scattered, and a clean place and makes the hogs exercise, and if possible let them eat the corn on the ground it was grown on.

And should you be, as I am, in a locality where you cannot grow alfalfa and red clover without going to more expense than it is worth, and have to supply your protein with tankage or meat meal, a good plan would be to make some self-feeders and mix one part tankage, one part man, and two parts shorts, and put in the feeders dry, the amount to balance the ration with corn. If one does not care to feed the bran and shorts, mix the tankage with crushed corn. The reason for the self-feeder is threefold:—first the hogs cannot get into the feed with their feet, second they can feed from both sides and about twice as many can eat from the same space; and third they cannot eat so fast and more of the juices of the mouth are mixed with the food and makes digestion better which saves feed and makes pounds of pork.

All sleeping quarters should be cleaned often and given a liberal coating of air-slacked lime, and this should be sprinkled around the lot and places where the hogs collect of morning and evening. There are many preparations on the market in the way of dips, but we have found the lime cheaper and more effective.

When hogs are kept clean of external and internal parasites, the chances for staying off the disease are ameliorated to a great extent. For the former we use a liberal application of crude oil, crude oil and coal oil mixed at this rate: 4 gallons crude oil, three quarts coal oil and one quart crude acid, about every thirty days. When this is followed regularly, we do not have many lice and it is the cheapest preparation we can find. For the latter there are many things to be used and I have used most of them. Copperas is good when followed with a mild purgative, and crude oil poured on shelled corn is effective, which are the main ones I use.

This may be written in the manner of a trip to San Francisco via New York, but it all has a bearing on the subject. As all animals belong are containing with disease germs at all times, the more healthy we can keep an animal the longer it can withstand the attack. So it becomes all hog raisers to see that the ration is on a balance, that the sleeping and feeding quarters are in sanitary condition, and that the animal is cleaned of all parasites.

When the above is followed one need not fear a scourge of cholera breaking out among his hogs until he gets his herd exposed to the disease. Then he is confronted with a different proposition. Then I would use the last resort, the serum treatment, just as quickly as it could be got to the herd, and only the single treatment. There is one thing I would take a run and drive a man off the place for, that is bringing virus on the farm, for how do we expect to exterminate Cholera as long as we carry it in a bottle and give it to hogs.

A few days ago, we had an order for six pigs provided we would give them ten days and ship, so anyone may guess what this would have done, as they were to go through three or four express offices and that many care and put on several farms at the end of the road, and it would not be a hard matter to tell what our decision was in the case, either.

Another reason for opposing the simultaneous method is the lack of understanding among the men who should know. Some claim a lifetime immunity, others say it varies from six months to a life time. One state law requires a quarantine for thirty days, and the order mentioned above was from a man who should know and his time was only 10 days. Until some thing more definite is agreed to by the ones higher up, I for one am willing to let it alone.

TOM SAWYER IN MOVIES STAGED AT HANNIBAL

A moving picture company has been organized to stage moving picture plays with the scenery about Hannibal as the background.

In all the state it would be hard to find a more interesting landscape. It is well described in "Tom Sawyer," and it is said one of the plays to be produced will be from that interesting book.

Almost everything is there today just as it was when "Tom Sawyer" was written. About the streets of Hannibal can be found "Huck Finn," "Joe Harpers" and "Injun Joe." The old McDougal cave is there, so is Lover's Leap, Glasscock island, where the boys played pirates, the broad, majestic sweep of the Father of Waters, the old landing place, even the "weezy old ferry boat."

There are yet living in Hannibal many of the old school chums of Sam Clemens, people from whom some of his characters were drawn. Prominent among these is "Becky Thatcher," the heroine in Tom Sawyer, Doc Buck Brown, who spelled down Mark Twain at the village school one night, and Joe Tisdale, "makers of cigars to Sam," as he styles himself. Joe once remarked that his private opinion of Clemens as a school boy was that "Sam was a d— fool," but later in life he altered that, as did most of the Hannibal people, who shared Joe's views, but were not so frank in expressing them.

Not only will the company produce "Tom Sawyer," but they will use the beautiful scenery about Hannibal for thrilling dramas of all sorts, maidens jumping off the 500 feet high Lover's Leap, Indian fights in the valley, the cave robber band hiding treasure in the gloomy corridors and all the vivid action pertaining to frontier life.

It will be a good thing for Hannibal, and maybe when the camera men get to going we can induce them to come over in these parts and put us on the map, too. For we have the background of a wonderful history in as large a measure as the city on the big river.

ECONOMY IN STOCK RAISING.
FARMERS waste an immense amount of feed annually. If any one should doubt that, a glance from a car window at the fields of weather-beaten cornstalks would be convincing. Prof. W. A. Cochel of Kansas has estimated that in that state enough feed was wasted in the winter and spring of 1913 to feed every animal that was sacrificed on a glutted market. In some states it is cornstalks; in others it is straw, and in others it is grass that is wasted. This coarse feed would support great numbers of cattle and at the same time insure a money value from the stuff and furnish employment in winter.

A ration of 20 pounds of corn silage in some straw and 1 pound of cottonseed meal daily maintained cattle two years ago in Kansas at a cost of $4.44 per head for 100 days of winter. Last winter a similar ration cost $5.46 per cow. One difficulty is the choice of feeds. The other day a man drove to an Illinois town with a load of oats to be ground for his cattle. The county agent heard of his errand and did a little figuring. It would cost 12 cents per cwt. for grinding the oats, and they could be sold for 50 cents per bushel. This made ground oats $1.68 per cwt. Cottonseed meal could be bought for $1.60, and it was worth twice as much as oats to feed those cattle. According to the man was persuaded to sell the oats, spend half the proceeds for cottonseed meal and put the other half in the bank. A neighbor happened along and confirmed the plan. He had prevailed upon it a month before and it worked out all right. A knowledge of feeds and of live stock requirements would help many a farmer to save a large share of his feed bill without stinting his stock in nourishment.—Brokers Gazette.

Miss Lillian Woolery, who lives south of this city, is spending the week-end with Miss Ruth Lewis.

Robert Muir is quite ill. His son, Tom Muir, of Omaha, Neb., is at his bedside.

AUXVASSE.

The bank of McCredie, which was organized a short time ago, selected their site this week. It is near Suggs Bros. general store. This bank is capitalized at $20,000. C. H. Berry will be president and Ray Suggs, cashier.—Walter Harrison while trimming his trees at his home, one mile north of Auxvasse, cut his leg very painfully and while not serious he will have to rest up for a while. There were three sales in this community this week as follows: Mrs. Mary Eve Atkinson, who is renting her farm and moving to Auxvasse, J. T. Pierce, who is leaving the State, Frank Hamilton and John Boles, mule and cattle sale. Stock sold exceedingly well, taking everything in consideration.—Mr. Hassler of Mexico, and also Mr. Dan Cauthorn were business visitors here Thursday.—Miss Grace and Ermine Van Horn, Elizabeth Nickols spent Sunday here, returning to Fulton Monday.—Mrs. L. Y. Hume is quite sick.—Mrs. Mary Eve Atkinson bought of Ed Bryant, his home on Main street Thursday for $1,800.—Mr. Herman Wasele is quite sick at his home south of town. E. J. Bruton left Saturday for Columbia, to visit his sister, Mrs. Lees Crews, after which he will go to Bowling Green, where he expects to fill the office of deputy to his father-in-law, T. M. King, who will be collector.—W. H. Cornelius bought the Bates McCune place Wednesday for $1,500.—Mrs. Rebecca Yates with her son, Mrs. Gilbert are the guests of relatives in Montgomery.—John Swon and wife arrived home Monday and were treated to a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swon Tuesday.—Mrs. E. M. Dudley, Miss Gibbs and Miss La Boles attended the Helen Keller lecture at Hardin College Sunday afternoon.—Mr. Luke Simpson who is ticket agent here now, has taken rooms at Mrs. John Boles.—Mr. Tom Buckner of Kansas City, with his brother, Bob Buckner, of Mexico, were business visitors in Auxvasse and Fulton, Wednesday.

WESTERN AUDRAIN.
Frank Neal and bride have moved to their home.—Mrs. Ben Owings is recovering from her recent illness.—Roy Hawkins is building on his farm.—J. L. Brannan has been appointed road overseer in Wright district.—K. K. Stevens of Paris visited his farm this week. While here he bought 16 stock hogs from Geo. Swetman at 6 1-4c; two from Frank Swinney at 6 1-4c; and 7 from Marsh West at 6c.—James Stevens of Columbia was looking over his farm last week.—Lloyd Ess, N. S. Mallory, and James Swinney each lost horses from some peculiar disease recently.—Miss Alma Swinney celebrated her birthday Saturday evening. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.—N. S. Mallory paid 70c to Newt Burkey for corn.—P. D. Forrest is hauling corn to Larrabee for 71c.—Ben Burkey sold to William Schoop 500 bushels of cane at 5c.—R. O. Doyle sold 600 bushels to V. Ess at 4c.—Mr. Swale has moved to the White farm near Larrabee.—Mrs. Sarah Higginbottom, an aunt of Mrs. R. O. Doyle, died suddenly in Moberly Thursday last week.—The beautiful country home of Wm. Ess was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night.—The prospect for wheat in this community was never better.—Owing the high price of corn, the farmers are feeding hogs on a substitute. Horses, cattle and all farm stock are making good gains from its use. This was feed about 14 years ago by large feeders under the name of corn hearts.—Rev. Trimble of Columbia will preach at Macedonia the third Sunday in each month this year.—Frank Swinney traded his 100-acre farm to Lawyer Cave of Moberly for a nice brick residence in that city.—Mr. Porter Thomas celebrated her birthday Friday. We do not know how many times this good woman has passed the mill stone of life, but we do know her life is one of usefulness and happiness. May she be spared yet many, many years to continue to scatter the rays of sunshine.

YOUNG'S CREEK.
Lewis Callaway purchased a pair of coming three year old draft mares at Ralph King's sale price $300.—G. W. Miller sold an aged horse mule to Gilmore Bros., of Callaway County, for $85.00.—Claude Sloaner and Mike Peck bought a quantity of corn from J. C. Dowell.—D. M. Sloaner sold a pair of four year old mules to J. P. Albright for $225.—J. L. Carpenter and Octave Ellis were on the St. Louis market recently with a load of 197 lb. hogs which weighed the market at $6.95 per cwt.—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Carpenter visited their daughter, Mrs. Henry Rudasill, near Strother recently.—Harry Householder made a business trip to St. Louis the past week.—Claude Callaway is visiting friends in Moberly.—Mr. E. Mrs. H.C. Berry is not so well the last few days.—J. W. Gorrell sawed wood in this neighborhood last week.—Mrs. Sam Brasher of Chilhowe, Mo., is the guest of her father, J. C. Miller and other relatives.—Jan. Creed and wife visited from Friday till Sunday, with Mrs. Creed's brother, Ed Allison, of Paris and friends near Strother.—Oak Hannah and wife of near Paris were Sunday guests of relatives here.—There was an attendance of 54 at the Mt. Zion Sunday school Sunday afternoon.—Almer Mundy purchased a cow from R. M. Roberts for $50. He also bought a cow from Charly Bradley and a number of cattle from W. W. Mundy but we didn't learn the price.—John Baker and wife spent Thursday with Mrs. Felix Martin.—Dr. and Mrs. Flint attended services at the Baptist church at Mexico Sunday. Several others from near Molino have attended at different times.

Moberly Horses and Mules.
In number of horses, Missouri, with 1,095,000 head, ranks fifth among the states. With $29,000 mules, we are second only to Texas. Missouri horses and mules, says the State Board of Agriculture, are practically free from glanders. This fact makes our horse stock in keen demand from foreign buyers who are placing European war orders.
